

Health & Life

the Eder Way

A window to your body

The mouth is a window to the health of your body. It can show signs of deficient nutrition, various illnesses, general infections, drug use, harmful habits, addictions, your general health, and even physical abuse. Further, gum disease can be linked to diabetes, rheumatoid arthritis, and heart disease. So good oral hygiene should be high on everyone's list.

Is it time for a visit to the dentist?

Do you grind your teeth?

Do your teeth have sensitivity to hot or cold?

Do you take medications that produce dry mouth?

Is flossing painful or uncomfortable?

When you're having symptoms, a trip to the dentist is made easier with dental insurance coverage.

This is an old saying, but it's especially appropriate when it comes to your teeth. It is the reason that dental insurance just makes sense. Most insurances pay benefits after the problem has developed. Dental insurance is designed to prevent problems from starting, or to keep them from getting worse.

Get all these benefits from the Delta Dental plan:

- 100 percent coverage for checkups, cleanings, x-rays, fluoride treatments, and sealants (age limits may apply)
- 80 percent coverage after deductible for fillings, extractions, endodontics, non-surgical periodontics
- 50 percent coverage after deductible for surgical periodontics, inlays, onlays, crowns, dentures, bridges, implants

Option	Maximum Per Person Out of Pocket	Orthodontia (50% Coverage)
1	$2,000	up to $3,000
2	$1,500	up to $2,000
3	$1,000	up to $1,500
